Dr. Rebecca Booth

MD, FACOG

Dr. Booth was born in Columbia, TN, and moved to Louisville as a child.

She completed undergraduate studies at the University of Kentucky and studied medicine at the University of Louisville where she was inducted into the Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Society and received her medical degree in 1985. She completed her internship and residency at the University of Louisville Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology, and received board certification in 1991.

Dr. Booth joined Women First in 1989 and her practice is primarily gynecology. She is a fellow in the American College of Obstetricians & Gynecologists, and a member of the Kentucky Medical Association, the Jefferson County Medical Association, the American Medical Association, the Louisville Obstetrics & Gynecology Society, the International Society for Clinical Densitometry, and the American Association of Gynecologic Laparoscopists. She has been named in Louisville Magazine as one of Louisville's "Top Docs" and is the author of the book The Venus Week.

Dr. Booth's special interests include preventive health care maintenance for women, minimally invasive gynecologic surgery, treatment of the abnormal Pap smear, birth control and sterilization techniques, and hormonal management.

"I work with individual women to facilitate optimum health—through disease screening and preventative methods—so that they can take charge of their health and inspire family and community wellness."
